how many ways
Dairyland blends add
appeal to foods

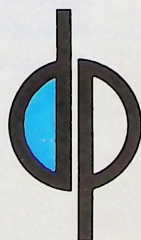

Taste appeal, yes. But, Dairyland high-quality dairy blends improve the appeal of foods and candies in lots of other ways too. They add nutrition, texture, appearance and shelf life to all kinds of products — lunch meats, nutrition food products, soups, sauces, margarine, frozen desserts, bakery products, caramels, compound coatings, dry mixes and beverages.

Dairyland has been an industry leader in products and service for over 50 years. We know the technical side of food production and candy-making. So, when you're reformulating and want to make a better as well as more profitable product, call on Dairyland. We can help you with new product development and special formulation blends too.

Don't be surprised if we come up with some winning ideas for consumer tables. Dairyland's Special Application Products and services are as near as your telephone.
