

The source...

...for your ethylene oxide needs.

In almost every way you can think of —on-schedule deliveries, service, tank car fleet availability, whatever—Northern Petrochemical has the strength it takes to be your ethylene oxide supplier.

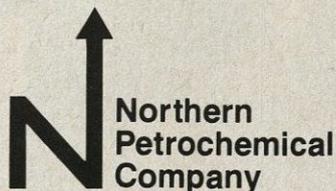

But there's still another good reason why you should buy from Northern.

We're strictly an ethylene oxide supplier. We don't compete with you.

Which gives us an edge. We can supply ethylene oxide on a regular basis, year after year after year. And this makes Northern the most reliable source around.

Our ethylene oxide customers tell us that's a very comforting thought when they have orders to fill. Production schedules to meet. Promises to keep.

Next time you need ethylene oxide, talk to the experts at Northern. We'd like to become your source.
